

Lobivia sublimiflora or hybrid?

Hi, Fabio. The story is somewhat confusing, specially the question. You need to explain clearly, what you did cross. For example L. silvestrie x L. sublimiflora (first plant ist the mother, second plant the father), but may be the parents are the other way round. When you cross two Lobivia-species you get hybrid plants. The plants you show, are hybrids. The body is similar to L.silvestrii, the flowers somewhat similar to L. sublimiflora.

I do not understand why you think the father is a hybrid
