Hi Matteo,
very interesting crossings. 🤖

Nobody knows, if this Echinopsis obrepanda zweifarbig is a hybrid or a pure species. This is the only one bicolour, Mr. Kellner got by sowing seeds of Echinopsis obrepanda. So you perhaps may call it a selection.

Attention: This species is a Pseudobolivia, and it seems to work well with Trichocereus, Pseudobolivia and maybe also with Lobivia, but mostly not with Echinopsis. Last year I bought seeds of 2 crossings of Echinopsis obrepanda zweifarbig with Schicks from Axel Neumann, and the result was 1 seedling, totally yellow, that I grafted.

At the moment, a seller at Ihhbäh offers seeds of several crosses of Echinopsis obrepanda with Echinopsis hybrids. I think, most of these crosses will produce no or only abnormal seedlings.
