

Own hybrid I call "Stella-Maria"

I agree I'm a bit easily offended right now, I over reacted, sorry!

I had trouble with some member of hybridenforum previously and therefore I mostly read here. When I posted again, after a long period of inactivity I interpreted your comment with hostility.

I'm not a member of AG as I wrote before so I find myself sovereign regarding my hybrids. I do not benefit anything from AG so I feel no obligation to conform to it's rules.

I posted my photos here in this section "general photos" because I have lost the label and information to parentage.

I uploaded a photo from last summer (I was not in a hurry to show anyone here my new hybrid). I usually only read here, mostly because I dislike authority which I don't think belongs in art (yes, I see our passion/activity as a form of art even though God does the biggest part of it).

A question: who decides which hybrids deserve a name or not, is there some voting or do we have formal popes?

Why I stick here is that I seek my people who, like me, enjoys beauty and pleasure!

(many cameras have a hard time capturing red or blue nuances, as I think of it photo #1 shows

"reality" better then photo#2 which is distorted in colour absolutely not accurate to reality).
